USGIF invites the GEOINT Community for a day of golfing and networking in support of the Foundation's EdGEOcation Fund. Tee off with an 11:30 a.m. shotgun start at Belmont Country Club and support GEOINT education and our nation's future leaders. Proceeds go toward the Foundation's educational activities to include awarding scholarships, providing academic certificates to students who graduate from USGIF's accredited colleges and universities, delivering STEM materials to K-12 classrooms, administering professional certifications, and much more.

Belmont Country Club is home to an 18-hole Arnold Palmer Signature golf course, which was nominated for the Best New Private Golf Course Award by Golf Digest in its inaugural year. Measuring 7,212 yards from the back tees, the natural elevation changes, the tree-lined fairways and the vast amount of wetland hazards challenge all levels of golfers. As a result, Belmont was rated the third most challenging golf course in Virginia by the USGA.
