

ROBERT T. CARDILLO
Deputy Director for Analysis

Robert Cardillo is the Deputy Director for Analysis, Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA). As such, he directs the analytical effort of approximately 3,000 intelligence professionals who are responsible for producing the national military intelligence required to develop and execute the National Security Strategy. He is also the GDIP Functional Manager for Analysis. In this role, he manages all-source analytic responsibilities and leads efforts to evaluate and improve the performance of the analytic community, which includes DIA, the Service Intelligence Centers, and the intelligence centers at the Combatant Commands. Mr. Cardillo is currently serving as the Acting J2 in support of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

Throughout his career, Mr. Cardillo has served in a variety of leadership positions within the Intelligence Community. Before assuming his current position, he served as the Director, Analysis & Production, National-Geospatial Intelligence Agency. Other key leadership positions included: Director, Source Operations & Management, and Director, Office of Corporate Relations, National Imagery & Mapping Agency. Selected to the Defense Intelligence Senior Executive Service in May of 2000, he began his career in 1983 as an imagery analyst with the Defense Intelligence Agency.

Mr. Cardillo earned a Bachelor of Arts in Government from Cornell University in 1983, and a Master of Arts in National Security Studies from Georgetown University in 1988. He is an alumnus of the Council for Excellence in Government, the Federal Executive Institute, the Joint Chiefs of Staff Capstone Course, and Harvard University's Program for Senior Managers in Government. Mr. Cardillo is the recipient of the Presidential Rank of Distinguished Executive, Presidential Rank of Meritorious Executive, the Vice President's Hammer Award, DIA's Analyst of the Year, Director DIA's Intelligence Award, and NGA's Distinguished Civilian Service Award.

A runner who has completed five Marine Corps Marathons, Mr. Cardillo resides in Alexandria with his wife and their teenage daughter. His oldest son graduated from William & Mary in 2008 and his youngest son attends the University of Virginia.