

Co-Founder, Chief Strategist
Intterra Group

Kate Dargan is currently the Chair of the Board and Chief Strategy Officer for Intterra, a company she co-founded in 2010. Prior to that Kate was a pioneering firefighter in 1977, a firefighter/chief for 30 years and the first woman State Fire Marshal for California appointed to that top fire post. She has responded to emergencies and disasters, worked on boards, committees, councils, and task forces to advance public safety and now focuses on helping Intterra bring innovative geospatial and remote sensing solutions to first responders. She is married to Jim Marquis and they have 5 children, 3 of which are in public safety. Her current favorite fun thing to do is hiking around Lake Tahoe where she lives.
