

Biography

Department of the Army

Gary W. Blohm

Army Geospatial Information Officer (GIO)

Director, U.S. Army Geospatial Center and ERDC Geospatial Research Lab

Alexandria, Virginia

Mr. Gary W. Blohm entered the Senior Executive Service in 2003. Mr. Blohm has served as the Director of the U.S. Army Geospatial Center in Alexandria, Virginia, since August 2018. As Director, Mr. Blohm is responsible for supporting the operations, intelligence, acquisition, research & development and modeling & simulation communities with geospatial information. He also serves as the Army's Geospatial Information Officer, with responsibility for collecting and validating geospatial requirements, formulating geospatial policy, setting priorities and securing resources supporting the Army Geospatial Enterprise, and synchronizing geospatial solutions at both HQDA and Secretariat levels of Army governance.